The Legislature-How Composed.

The election returns are far from com plete; but as far as now known, the Legis lature will be composed of the following gentlemen.

Boone, Robt. Hagar; Braxton, Felix Sutton; Brooke; "H. W. Crothers; Cabell, Edward D. Wright; Doddridge, Ephraim Bee; Hancock, W. L. Crawford; Jackson, D. J. Keeney; Lewis; P. M. Hale; Morgan, Joseph S. Wheat (probably;) Mason, Lewis Bumgardner; Pendleton, John Boggs; Putnam, George C. Bowyer; Ritchie, Sam'l R. Dawson; Taylor, L. E. Davidson; Tyler, Rev. Daniel Sweeney; Upshur, Alva Teter; Wetzel, Samuel J. Robinson; Wirt, Albert Poster; Hampshire, George W. Sheets and Jas. I. Barrick; Harrison, Nathan Goff and S. S. Fleming; Kanawha, Spicer Patrick and Lewis Ruffner; Marion, Isaac Holman and John S. Barnes; Marshall, Joseph Turner, Kramer and John B. Lough; Preston, W. B. Zinn and J. C. McGrew; Ohio, Daniel Lamb, W. W. Shriver and A. F. Ross; Pleasants, and Wood (1st dist.) H. N. Crooks and P. G. Van Winkle; Calboun and Gilmer (2d dist.) W. T. Wiant; Tucker and Randolph (5th dist.) Cyrus Kettle.

This makes forty out of the fifty-two members which is the whole number provided by the Constitution. The counties not yet heard from are the following :

Payette, Hardy, Logan, Mercer, Roane, and Wayne, entitled to one delegate each; Clay and Nicholas (3d dist.), Webster and Pocahontas (4th dist.), and McDowell, Wyoming and Raleigh (6th dist.), entitled brier and Monroe which are entitled to

It is doubtful whether members have been elected from any of these counties; though we learn the refugees from some of them have held elections, and will apply for representation. Considering the state of the back or frontier counties, and especially that a raid had been made through the State immediately before the election, the people have done well in electing regularly four-fifths of the House; and the material chosen speaks well not only for their judgment but their sterling loyalty. So far as known to us the following gentlemen are elected to the Senate: From the first Senatorial district, com posed of the counties of Hancock, Brooke and Ohio, Chester D. Hubbard of Wheeling, and J. H. Atkinson of New Cumberland. From the second district, composed of Marshal, Wetzel and Marion, James Burley gantown, and John J. Brown of Kingwood. From the fourth district, Pleasants, Tyler, Ritchie, Doddridge and Harrison, Daniel Haymond of Federal Hill (Ritchie) and Edwin Maxwell of Clarksburg. From the fifth district, Wood, Wirt

Jackson, Roane, Calboun and Gilmer, E. S. Mahon of Jackson, and W. E. Stevenson

From the sixth district, Barbour, Tucker, Lewis, Braxton, Upshur and Raudolph, Daniel D. T. Farnsworth of Buckhannon, and William D. Rollyson of Sutton. From the seventh district, Mason, Putnam, Clay and Nicholas, J. M. Phelps of Mason, and Greenberry Slack of Kanawha, From the eighth district, Cabell, Wayne. Boone, Logan, Wyoming, Mercer and Mc-Dowell, Wm. H. Copley, and John B. Bowen.

From the ninth district, Webster, Pocahontas, Fayette, Raleigh, Greenbrier and Monroe, none heard from. Probably no election was, or could be, held.

From the tenth district, Pendleton, Hardy, Hampshire and Morgan, Aaron Becktol of Morgan, and James Carskadon of Hamp-

This makes eighteen out of the twenty, of which the Senate is to be composedwhich is certainly doing very well. So far as we know anything of these gentlemen, either personally or by reputation, we think the new Senate, as well as the new House, will be a body creditable to the New State in point of ability and respec-

The idea that any troops have been sent to the relief of Vicksburg, from the Rappahannock, is not entertained by our offito one delegate each district; and Green. cers. The first great result of Gen. Grant's attack on Vicksburg is the demonstration of the enemy's weakness. Outside Lee's army they have no such strength as has been claimed for them. Two weeks have elapsed since the investment of that stronghold, and yet they have not been able to stir hand nor foot in its behalf .-They have withdrawn a few troops from some of the more southerly places, to reinforce Joe Johnston with a view to Pemberton's relief, but none have been taken from either Bragg or Lee, who have their hands full already. It would seem as if operations all along the line had been suspended awaiting the result of Banks' and Grant's present assaults. If they succeed, or even the latter one, the stroke will be fatal to the rebel lion. lion. The effects of such a contingency on it fortunes have already evidently been studied out, and decided upon at Richmond. The protest of Gov. Vance, of North Carolina, against transferring the theatre of war from Virginia to that State was made undoubtedly upon the knowledge that some such conclusion had been arrived at by Jeff. Davis. The dreadful imof Moundsville, and Aaron Hawkins of upon them is shown by Jeff.'s presence in Mississippi, by the increased whining of the Richmond papers, and by the scamper the sinking.

U. S. SPEANER DIANA. June 2. When we left Mound City we started for Vicksburg, and arrived at Memphis on the 22d of May, lay there one day and night, left there and came down to Helena, Ark. Our commissary boat came into Helena the counties of Hancsck, Brooks and Ohio about four hours after the rest of the fleet, and reported that she was fired into by the State of Ohio. Major General William five miles above Helena, Our General concinded he would not let such an act go us punished, so on Sunday the 24th, abou 2 o'clock in the morning we started up the PHOTOGRAPHIC GALLERY river to the above named place, arriving there just as the sun was rising, and landed our cavalry and infantry and sent them Ohio county is to have Wheeling fortified, in pursuit of the "rebs" and found them about five miles from the river, 1500 in obvious reasons why Marshall county when they retreated, earrying all their should have been included too. After the "rebs" retreated, our men came the Marshall county line is so near Wheel- board the boats and came on down the ing that it cuts off a corner of Ritchie- river again to Helena. We left there on Monday evening and arrived at the mouth of White river on Tuesday, here we took about 30 negroes, 60 head of cattle, 40 mules and a few horses. While we lay here there were 5,500 rebel prisoners taken new Postoffice law, enacted by the last up the river, captured somewhere below Vicksburg. On Wednesday we started on down the river arriving at Young's Point on Friday the 28th. Vicksburg is about 6 miles from this point, and is in sight. Our men are throwing shells into the Gen. Grant has got them entirely surrounded so that it is impossible for them record thereof in his office, which record to get out, and it is also impossible for our men to scale the walls of their forts, but Gen Grant is taking a new plan, he has gone to blowing up their forts, he has already blown up one or two and is now undermining their strongest one for the same Our sharpshooters are under their works as close as they can get, and gone sucker for "sartain." Thus you see we prevent them from firing a single one of their big guns while our men are fortifybox holders, with the number of the box ing not more than two hundred yards from assigned to each, and the time during their works. Our soldiers are in the best of spirits, ter, whether he has collected them or not. and feel as certain that we shall take Vicksburg as though we were in actual possession now. Our gunboats lay close to shore right in front of the city. They are out of range of their guns, of course, but they command the whole levee. The women and children are all in the city yet, and there is no doubt but what a number of them is killed every day; but it is General Pemberton's fault. Gen. Grant sent bim word to move their women and children out same time before his army came in and surrounded the city, and now it would not do to let them out to tell the enemy the position of our troops. Pemberton sent all the women, and children, and niggers to our lines the other day but Grant would not let them out. He told them he had given them the opportunity of going out once, but their General would not accept it; but says be, "You may stay here inside my lines if you do not wish to be destroyed in the city," but they concluded to go back into the city and stand the chances, but the negroes Grant would not permit to go back, but kept them to build furtifica-

Pemberton is undoubtedly becoming very much alarmed about his own neck, as you will (perhaps) remember he was Colonel of a New York regiment at the battle of Bull Run; he was there taken prisoner by the rebels, turned traitor, and they made Brigadier of bim first, and afterward a Major General, and put him in command at Vicksburg. He has sent a flag of truce three times, it is said, to Grant, proposing terms on which to surrender. In the first, he proposed to surrender the place if Grant lars, and lastly, he proposed to surrender if he would let one man out, and I presume that one was General Pemberton him-
